

Steve Prosenyak

Guitar/Ukulele Instructor – Holy Family Conservatory of Music

Steve Prosenyak has more than 20 years of guitar experience and 15 years of ukulele experience. He attended University of Wisconsin – Stevens Point and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Music in 2011. Steve has played with various rock, jazz, folk, choral, and Catholic music liturgy groups, in addition to having played in several pit orchestras for musical theater productions.

Steve also applies his musical talents to recording and producing music. Most recently, he had the pleasure of co-producing Fritz Schuler's Some Cold Rainy Day, an album of blues and folk songs. In May 2020, Steve released Music for Long Days, a collection of original solo guitar pieces. Music for Long Days is available for streaming and free download at soundcloud.com/steve-prosenyak.

Steve has taught guitar and ukulele lessons at Holy Family Conservatory of Music since 2020. With his varied experience, Steve is able to teach all types of guitar, including acoustic, electric, and classical. He happily offers in-person and virtual lessons to students of all ages.

Steve lives in Manitowoc with his wife, Bonnie. When he's not playing, writing, or recording music, he enjoys playing board and tabletop games, grilling, and having a good cup of tea.
